DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' Preliminary Amendment, filed 10/12/05, has been entered.
Claims 1-20 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-14, 19 and 20, drawn to methods of producing an animal embryo, the method comprising transferring from a nuclear donor cell which has been selected on the basis that it is histone hypomethylated at least a portion of the nuclear contents including at least the minimum chromosomal material able to support development into a suitable recipient cell.

Group II, claim(s) 15-16, drawn to methods of producing a fetus, the method comprising allowing an embryo to develop into a fetus and method of producing a non-human animal by allowing an embryo to develop into said non-human animal.

Group III, claim(s) 17-18, drawn to methods of producing an embryonic stem cell line, the method comprising transferring an embryo to a culture system, or isolating the inner cell mass of the embryo and transferring the inner cell mass to a culture system.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Unity of Invention between different categories of inventions will only be found to exist if specific combinations of inventions are present. Those combinations include:

- 1) A product and a special process of manufacture of said product
- 2) A product and a process of use of said product
- 3) A product, a special process of manufacture of said product, and a process of use of said product

Art Unit: 1632

4) A process and an apparatus specially designed to carry out said process

5) A product, a special process of manufacture of said product, and an apparatus specially designed to carry out said process.

The allowed combinations do not include multiple products, multiple methods of using said products, and methods of making multiple products as claimed in the instant invention.

37 CFR 1.475 (c) states that:

"If an application contains claims to more or less than one of the combination of categories of invention set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, unity of invention might not be present."

37 CFR 1.475 (d) states:

"If multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims of the application and the first recited invention of each other categories related thereto will be considered as the main invention in the claims, see PCT Article 17(3)(a) and 1.476(c)."

37 CFR 1.475(e) states:

"The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternative within a single claim."

In the instant case, Groups I-III relate to multiple methods of using a particular product (i.e., an animal embryo that is produced by the method of transferring from a nuclear donor cell which has been selected on the basis that it is histone hypomethylated at least a portion of the nuclear contents including at least the minimum chromosomal material able to support development into a suitable recipient cell). Each of the methods, represented in Groups I-III has materially different method steps, and requires different reagents and technical considerations. None of the methods are required to implement the other. Therefore, unity of invention is found to be lacking under Rule 13.1, and 37 CFR 1.475 (d).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
